TEN CENTS A WEEK

SHOCKING IS STORY TOLD BY THE AGENTS

Detailed to Investigate and Report Upon Conditions Among Steerage Passengers on Ocean Steamships.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 14.—A report on steerage conditions based on information obtained by special agents of the immigration commission traveling as steerage passengers on different trans-Atlantic steamers was made public yesterday through presentation to the Senate with recommendations for legislation to better conditions. Conditions found on many of these vessels are described as appalling.

The general report of the commission contains the reports of individual agents, giving their experience on board steamships where they posed as steerage passengers. A woman agent, who was herself miserably insulted and compelled to withstand repulsive privations, said: "During these twelve days in the steerage, I lived in disorder and in surroundings that offended every sense. Only the fresh breeze from the sea overcame the sickening odors. The vile language of the men, the screams of the women defending themselves, the crying of children, wretched because of their surroundings, and practically every sound that reached the ears irritated beyond endurance. There was no sight before which the eye did not prefer to close."

"Everything was dirty, sticky and disagreeable to the touch. Every impression was offensive. Worse than this was the general air of immorality. For fifteen hours each day I witnessed all around me this improper, indecent and forced mingling of men and women."

The woman agent had told of the mingling of the crew with the women of the steerage and said that the same conditions were true of the association of men steerage passengers with the women.

Agents of the immigration commission say that on many of the steamships men stewards and members of the crew, as well as male steerage passengers, crowd into the compartments set aside for the women and constantly pass through the passages of such compartments so that the woman in the steerage "had a constant invasion of privacy."

"Members of the crew," says one woman agent, "never failed to deal a woman passenger a blow, when she was found standing on the framework of a lower berth to get anything from an upper berth. If a woman was dressing, they always stopped to watch her, and frequently hit and handled her."

"One night the chief steerage steward entered our compartment, but not noticing me, approached a Polish girl, who was apparently the only occupant. She spoke in Polish, saying 'my head aches, please go on and let me alone.' But he continued and soon was insulting her. The girl, weakened by sea sickness, defended herself as best she could, but soon was struggling to get out of the man's arms. Just then other passengers entered and released her. Such was the man who was our highest protector and court of appeal."

Had Personal Experience.

The writer tells of repelling advances on the part of the crew and stewards with a hard, unexpected blow in the offender's face. She says:

"The manner in which the sailors, stewards, firemen and others mingled with the women passengers was thoroughly revolting. Their language and the topics of their conversation were vile. Their comments about the women, and made in their presence, were coarse. What was far worse, and of continual occurrence, was their handling of the women and girls. Some of the crew were always on deck, and took all manner of liberties with the women, in broad daylight as well as after dark."

Concerning other conditions in the old-type steerage, which still exists on many of the steamships, the agents of the commission are just as severe. In the introduction to the report, it is stated: "The universal human needs of space, air, food, sleep and privacy, are recognized to the degree now made compulsory by law. Beyond that the persons carried are looked upon as so much freight, with mere transportation as their only due."

The sleeping quarters are described as being in many cases filthy, inadequate and all that is bad.

WEST MAIN STREET IS BEING REPAIRED

COUNCIL RESCIND THEIR FORMER ACTION REGARDING MATTER.

Such Work as Is Absolutely Necessary
Was Ordered Done by Council
Upon Motion by Graves.

There was an adjourned meeting of the City Council on Monday evening which was of much importance to the citizens along West Main street, S., and a large number of the property owners were present for the purpose of seeing that some action was taken in their behalf.

Those present at this special session were President Broome, Aldermen Burnett, Colclough, Graves, Philfer and Pound; Alderman Goodwin being absent from the city.

Upon motion of Alderman Pound the street work that is now being done on this thoroughfare was ordered discontinued, but upon motion of Alderman Graves it was agreed to reconsider the action, and such work as was deemed absolutely necessary was ordered done.

This street has been the result of a great deal of contention during the past few months, for it has long since passed from one of the prettiest streets of the city to a place of gulches, holes and the like, and has been almost impassable.

Postmaster Lynch, Messrs Eddins, Pedrick, and a number of the other property owners have not ceased in their efforts to have the same repaired, and it now seems as if their efforts will be rewarded, unless another special meeting is called and the work again ordered discontinued.

As the street is now being constructed, the railway people will be compelled to lower their grade in conformity with the street, which was as it formerly stood, or until a few months since, when they hauled in sand and other material and raised the grade all along the line.

Not only will the property owners along the street appreciate this much-needed improvement, but it is a matter that will meet with the hearty appreciation of the general public of the city.

There was no further business transacted by the council at this session, and they adjourned until the next regular meeting, unless called together by the president.

steamships and it is declared that competition was the most forceful influence that led to the development of the improved type of steerage.

Under existing conditions on some of the steamships where the old type steerage prevails the report says it is impossible for a woman to keep even reasonably clean.

OTIS T. GREEN DIED IN OCALA MONDAY.

OCALA, Dec. 14.—Mr. Otis T. Green, a prominent and well-known attorney of this city, passed away shortly after noon yesterday. Deceased had only been ill a few days, his condition not being considered serious until Sunday morning. Death was caused by Bright's disease.

Mr. Green was born in Attica, Ind., in 1863 and came to this section during the year 1882 and embarked in the orange business. He was admitted to the bar in 1884 and was elected mayor of Ocala in 1892.

He was married in 1887 to Emily, the oldest daughter of Col. Edward Badger, who, with two children, Edward and Otis, Jr., survive him.

The deepest sympathy is extended to the family in their sad bereavement. The funeral was held at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon.

If its worth more to someone else than to you—no matter what it is—a want ad. will be a good investment.

PRESIDENT MAKES SPEECH ON BOWERY

Said Chasm Between Rich and Poor Was Not Much of a Chasm After All.

NEW YORK, Dec. 13.—After speaking last night in Carnegie hall at the diamond jubilee of the Methodist missions in Africa, President Taft motored through a driving rainstorm to the Bowery mission, where he made an address to a typical Bowery audience. He afterward inspected the "bread line" room, where each night hundreds of the unemployed are given food.

The President, in immaculate evening clothes, presented yesterday a striking contrast to the men of the mission, who rose to their feet and cheered him as he entered the long, church-like room from the rear. The drive to the mission was one of the mildest automobile trips the President has ever had. Rain was coming down in torrents.

Entering the hall, the President met a number of the Bowery mission workers, among them Mrs. Bird, "the mother of the Bowery," and Dr. Hallimond, superintendent of the mission. The President was introduced by Louis Klopsch, who established the mission.

Dr. Hallimond first spoke to the men.

"I wonder if you understand what an honor it is to have the President of the United States to come down here to see you?"

"We do," came a chorus of answers.

"You are gratified?"

"We are," came another hearty response.

"Do you from the bottom of your hearts thank the President for coming here?"

"We do, we do."

"It took a man with a big athletic heart to come all the way from the White House to the Bowery," said Mr. Hallimond, "but the wings of the eagle are very wide, and he has come right from the seats of the mighty to the bottomless pits of despair to encourage you. Now give him three rousing Bowery cheers."

The audience responded with a will.

"As I look in your faces," said the President in his address, "I see you to be earnest American citizens. Some of you are down on your luck, but you are responding in every fibre to the same sentiments of loyalty and decency, love of country and the same aspirations for better ideals that I hope every man in this country has."

"I am glad to be here, if by being here and by saying so I can convince you that the so-called chasm between you and those who seem for the time being to be more fortunate is not so much of a chasm after all, and that there is between them and you a feeling of sympathy on their part and an earnest desire that you shall have that equality of opportunity of getting on your feet, of earning a decent livelihood and supporting your families which we hope every man who lives under the Stars and Stripes enjoys."

"I am glad to testify to my interest in the work of the mission, which I hope will always help you and others over the hard places—the times when the Lord and everybody else seems to be against you—to help you at such times to believe that there are people in the world who sympathize with you and hope you will achieve all that an equality of opportunity will give you and to help you to better things."

After inspecting the "bread line" room the President was whirled in his automobile to his brother's home, where he spent the night.

WILL IMPROVE THE LOBBY.

Manager Ettel Believes in Keeping Hotel Up-to-Date.

Manager J. A. Ettel of the Brown House has recently made an extensive order for sufficient quantity of Mosaic inlaid linoleum which he will have placed all over the lower part of his popular hotel.

He states that the pattern which has been purchased is one of the prettiest he has ever had, and he will lay it upon the office floors, in the lobby, and also in the writing-room, and this, together with other improvements that he will have made at once, will give him still better accommodations for his ever-increasing patronage.

Since he has assumed entire charge of the place it has steadily gained in business and he is now proud of the fact that it is one of the best places of hotel property in the State.

Hunter Is Held For Triple Murder at Savannah, Ga.

SAVANNAH, Dec. 14.—Development last night in the aftermath of the triple murder of last Friday afternoon gave birth to the startling theory that not a single murderer but two or possibly three were engaged in the commission of the terrible crimes. County officers last night declared that of these J. C. Hunter, husband of Mrs. Maggie Hunter, whose death yesterday added a third to the number of murdered women, is certainly one.

They declare that the chain of evidence is complete, asserting that some clothing badly stained, apparently smeared with blood, which was found late yesterday and belongs to Hunter, is the final link. This clothing is declared was worn by Hunter on the day of the crime, and a smoking case found in the house of Hunter is declared to have been carried to Hunter on the same day.

It was declared last night by a sician at the Savannah Hospital that statements made during a moment of consciousness by Mrs. Hunter yesterday charged the crimes to her husband, and that she was being held by a negro man when the blows were struck that caused her death.

Rev. J. S. Wilder, pastor of a Baptist church here, stated that Mrs. Hunter after recognizing him declared a white man had struck the blows.

Yesterday and last night the police officers continued their questioning of Hunter, who has been a prisoner since Saturday. He stoutly denied any guilt.

Mayor Tiedeman last night asked that no extra editions of the newspapers be issued carrying the developments in the case, and though one paper was almost on the press, the edition was suppressed.

Honored Army Officer Is Proven a Petty Thief

NEW YORK, Dec. 14.—Capt. Thomas Franklin, United States army, twice commended by Gen. Chaffee and Gen. Otis for distinguished service in China and at Manila, pleaded guilty to a long series of petty embezzlements from the mess fund of the West Point cadets, as commissary and treasurer of the United States military academy, and was sentenced by Judge Hand, in the United States Circuit Court, to two years and six months in the Federal prison at Aljasta, Ga. His counsel gave notice that he would apply for a writ of error and review.

As commissary and treasurer, Capt. Franklin had charge of the pay checks of the cadets which he deposited in the United States sub-treasury in this city, and drew against for mess supplies. The total amount of his defalcations ran to $5,820, of which $4,331 was represented by false vouchers presented for approval to the superintendent of the United States military academy. At his first arraignment in last June he pleaded not guilty and subsequently demurred. The demurrers were overruled and trial set for yesterday. The statute of limitations in the court martial bars offenses committed only two years back as against three years in the Federal courts, and for this reason Judge Hand and not Major-General Wood heard the case.

Capt. T. S. Ansell argued for the prisoner that his client had risen from the rank by merit and that his irregularities were chargeable to his effort to raise a large family on an officer's pay.

The sentence, besides the penalty it sets, automatically cashiered Capt. Franklin from the army and deprives his family of any prospects of a retirement pension.

KNIGHTS HAVE DISTINGUISHED VISITOR

GRAND CHANCELLOR HERE ON OFFICIAL VISIT TO LODGE.

Following an Informal Reception at Castle Hall, Lodge Dined at the Advent Supper.

Mount Vernon Lodge, No. 20, K. of P., was honored last night by a most distinguished visitor in the person of Hon. Clay Crawford, who holds the high position of Grand Chancellor for the order of this State.

It was late in the afternoon when members of the order were informed that he would be with them at last night's meeting, but quite a number of the lodge's most prominent workers were soon assembled together and met the train in a body to welcome the distinguished visitor.

Following a general good time at the meeting, the session adjourned, and the entire lodge membership present visited the Masonic Temple, where the ladies of the Advent church were serving a sumptuous supper, and the evening's pleasure closed with a neat spread.

While in the city Mr. Crawford is the guest of his cousin, Mrs. W. H. Davis, on West Mechanic street. For the past several days he has been visiting various lodges of the State and was present at a grand banquet and general good time held by the Ocala Knights on Monday evening.

Besides the high position Mr. Crawford holds in the K. of P., he would be royally entertained by his numerous friends in Gainesville, who are always glad to greet him.

NEWS OF CITY AND COUNTY CONDENSED

R. T. Schafer, proprietor of the Keystone Bakery, has a change of advertisement in today's paper. He asks that you think about that Christmas cake and let him do the baking. Worry and trouble saved, as well as some little cash.

The Gainesville National Bank have a change of advertisement in today's Sun, in which they tell you how to "start the new year right" by spending less money than you earn and save the difference, on which they will allow you 4 per cent interest.

J. J. Tinsley, who has been here for the past number of days visiting his wife, left yesterday for Sanford and other points in the interest of his house. He states that the vegetable market is improving to some extent and he looks for good prices within a short while.

E. M. Shakespeare desires to thank those connected with the Coffin factory for saving the house occupied by him yesterday morning, which caught fire during his absence from home attending to his work. Mrs. H. H. McCreary, owner of the premises, also thanks the same parties for their timely services in saving the property from the flames.

Mr. and Mrs. John D. Sawyer, accompanied by the former's sister, of Providence, R. I., are spending a few days in the city, and are well pleased with Gainesville. Mr. Sawyer is president of one of the largest file concerns in existence, and is touring the State on pleasure, and never having seen Gainesville before decided to spend a short while here.

The most attractive window in the city is that of the Baird Hardware Company. The most beautiful holly tree ever seen in this city, laden with red berries, has been transplanted into a tub, and is decorated with electric bulbs of many colors, which shed their rays as the tree constantly revolves. It is the work of Artist Yancey, and reflects great credit upon his talent. We need not ask you to look at it, for no one can pass the store without stopping to admire it. Everybody in town will now have to take off their hat to Mr. Yancey as the premier in arranging attractive windows.

ARRESTED AND HELD.

Greek From Americus, Ga., Was Ordered Held by Police.

Marshal Dell received telegraphic information Monday evening to arrest a Greek by the name of Alec Deams, whom it was stated in the message was wanted for absconding with money.

Early in the evening he located the man wanted and when he placed him under arrest he was a much surprised person, but readily accompanied the officer and occupied quarters in the city jail.

Deams stated that he had done nothing wrong, for he was engaged in business with another Greek in that city, and that he was dissatisfied because the same was not paying, and after he had given his partner the stock of goods and stand he certainly considered that he had the right to take the cash sales on last Saturday, inasmuch as his partner had all the money for the week's sales.

This story was undoubtedly true, for on Tuesday another message was received ordering the release of Deams, which stated that the reward money, together with expense incurred, would be sent at once.

Movement on Foot to Complete Book for Distribution.

There is now a movement on foot to raise the necessary funds for the completion of the industrial book started some months since by the Gainesville and Gulf Railway Company, and which has assumed some shape.

It is understood that the railway company have given the work already to the city free of charge, if they will take it up and complete the publication of "Florida Fruits and Flowers."

The magazine is gotten up in nice shape and some thirty odd pages have been printed, but owing to a change in the management of the road the work was stopped, and there the matter has rested.

Interested ones are now trying to raise the necessary amount for its completion by private subscription.

J. MAXEY DELL

Will Run for Tax Assessor at Coming Primary.

To the Voters of Alachua County:

I address you this letter, thus far in advance, because no one has felt more keenly than myself the unfavorable result of delay. The most of you know me personally, and a simple announcement to such would suffice, but there are others who need to be informed as to my competency, to fill what seems to me to be one of the most important offices in the county. I refer to that of tax assessor. I have worked for ten years in the United States land office getting up information of every character for the State of Florida. I have acquired a knowledge of land which is indispensable in making up a tax roll, as all lands, homestead or other entries, become a matter of record here. And I call your attention to the trouble that has been given our people by placing on the tax books land the title of which was still in the Government, causing unnecessary expense. Since I have been in this office there has been frequent inquiries as to date of final proof made on homestead entries, and in nearly every instance, the sale was void, the land being assessed before proof was made, bringing unnecessary trouble to our people. Again this office should be filled by one who is familiar with the lands and their value, being able to equalize the valuation on same. I believe I know this as well as any man in the county, having been born and raised here, and making constant trips of the county for various purposes.

At my age the close confinement to the work I have been doing is getting more laborious daily, and keeps me from mingling with the people, which is so different from my natural inclination. I hope that you will see that it's for the best interest of our county, and honor me with your vote for Tax Assessor, and in token of my appreciation I will make you the most faithful and impartial officer I know how. Most respectfully,

J. MAXEY DELL.

Comets.

We know positively that comets attain their immense extension in space on account of the material comprising them being excessively tenuous, thinner than the lightest filmy haze of summer, says Professor Harold Jacoby, for we know the comets are not massive; they are almost entirely without weight. And this we know with certainty, because their arrival produces no perturbations of motion among the planets of the solar system, while the inexorable laws of mechanical science tell us that a massive comet must surely disturb the usual orderly planetary orbits. A comet might, indeed, strike the earth, though such a collision is most improbable. But even if it should ever occur the visible effects would probably be no greater than those produced occasionally by meteorites, or "falling stars."

The other possible danger from the comet, the chance of suffocation from gases in the tail, is also negated by actual observation, for it is almost certain that our earth did once pass through a comet's tail, and no one noticed it at the time. Only the subsequent calculations of astronomers brought out the fact that the cometary orbit and that of the earth really had a common point of intersection and that both bodies occupied that point at the same time.—New York American.

GAINESVILLE BAND ASSISTS MINSTRELS

WILL GIVE OPEN AIR CONCERT
PRECEDING THE SHOW.

Gainesville Orchestra Has Also Donated Their Services to Make the Show a Great Success.

Never was a movement started that is meeting with such favor as the Home Minstrels, to be presented by the Gainesville Dramatic Club at the New Baird on next Tuesday night, December 21st.

Following the announcement in The Sun of Tuesday the Gainesville Cornet Band kindly donated their services free for a concert preceding the show, while later in the afternoon Geo. Davenport tendered the use of the orchestra free to furnish music during the evening.

Tickets for this performance will be placed on sale within the next few days, and they will very likely meet with a great demand, owing to the object for which the play is given.

Manager Burnett is now arranging the program, and states that it will be one of the best local performances that was ever placed before the footlights to a Gainesville audience, and all who attend will be well satisfied.

New and catchy songs, as well as original jokes, applying particularly to home people, will be some of the features of the show, and this alone is an assurance that it will be particularly pleasing.

"THE SERVANT IN THE HOUSE."

World-Famous Play to be Given Five Performances in Jacksonville.

Readers of this paper will have an opportunity to see the most widely-discussed play on the American stage when Charles Rann Kennedy's epoch-making drama, "The Servant in the House," comes to the Duval Theatre in Jacksonville for five performances, beginning Thursday night, Dec. 16th, with a special matinee on Saturday. This is the great drama which Harper's Magazine calls "the most remarkable play in the English language," which The New York Evening Post says is "the greatest drama of the generation," and which The Chicago Daily News proclaims "the most beautiful play of all ages." The New York Sun calls "The Servant in the House" a "dramatic masterpiece." The New York Times considers it "a sensation." The Chicago Tribune calls it "a work of art that is simple enough and true enough to touch the heart of the world." The Chicago Record-Herald declares it to be "a work for the world to see and ponder upon." The Canadian Magazine calls "The Servant in the House" a "great play," and adds, "In Mr. Kennedy England has found at last a great playwright, possibly the greatest since Shakespeare."

The most striking feature of the play is its central character—a mysterious Hindoo whom the New York and Chicago critics call a reincarnation of the Christ. It is a daring role but treated with such intelligence and skill by the author that no offense is given to even the most easily shocked, and clergymen of all denominations have made the play the text for sermons in which they have urged the members of their congregations not to miss the beautiful stage story.

"The Servant in the House" will be presented at the Duval Theatre by the original New York and Chicago company headed by Tyrone Power in his great role of Drain-Man. The play will be put on in Jacksonville exactly as presented during the long run at the Savoy Theatre in New York.

Has Only Recently Assumed Charge
of the Gainesville Furniture Company, and Will Help Cause.

Dr. T. F. Thomas, who recently assumed charge of the Gainesville Furniture Company, has tendered the ladies of the Cemetery Association, through their president, Mrs. H. H. McCreary, a most generous offer.

Realizing the great need of a rock road through the new cemetery and desirous of at all times assisting in a worthy cause, he has consented to give the association 20 per cent of all sales on December 23rd, at the above store.

The Doctor states that everything handled by the Furniture Company will be included in the sale, and that he proposes to make it a banner day for the association insofar as receipts are concerned. By anticipating their wants in advance parties can purchase their goods and at the same time assist a most worthy cause, whether you have loved ones in the burial ground or not.

CARNIVAL IN FULL SWING.

Crowds Now Visiting Ground and Fun Making Supreme.

Tuesday night a large crowd was present at the Carnival grounds, and fun and merry-making was the general order.

All shows and attractions are now running full blast and the cool, bracing weather made it pleasant for the general mix-up of the people at the shows, and the real carnival spirit seems to prevail.

The Wright-Turner Company will be here the remainder of the week, and now that the weather has changed it is more than probable that the crowds will increase from night to night.

A JOYFUL PASTIME.

It's Really a Pleasure to Cure Catarrh by Breathing Hyomei.

It isn't a pleasure to saturate your stomach with vile nostrums or to shock the tender membrane of the nose and throat with disagreeable sprays and douches.

But strange to say there are a few thousand people who do not keep abreast of the times who are hoping against hope that these ancient methods will rid them of catarrh.

If the readers of The Sun who suffer from catarrh want to banish this vile and disgusting disease forever go to J. W. McCollum & Co. today and get a complete Hyomei (pronounced High-o-me) outfit for $1.00.

If it doesn't cure it won't cost you a cent because they will give you your money back.

Hyomei is so simple and pleasant to use; pour a few drops from the bottle into the inhaler and breathe it in. As it passes over the membrane and into the lungs with the air you breathe it soothes the raw membrane and kills the catarrh germs. Don't experiment longer. Leading druggists everywhere sell Hyomei for catarrh, coughs, colds, bronchitis, etc. Drop a postal for our free book, Booth's Famous People, Booth's Hyomei Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

WINTER PRUNING FOR WITHERTIP

By H. S. Fawcett, Florida Agri. Experiment Station
Press Bulletin No. 133

Withertip is one of the worst fungus diseases of citrus trees in Florida. In the winter season, diseased trees may be distinguished by the yellow and falling of their leaves, the dropping of their fruit, and the dying of their twigs and branches. A citrus tree affected with withertip will begin to lose its inside leaves. The outer leaves then turn yellow and fall, leaving many bare and discolored branches. The fruit also drops, with or without spotting.

How to Prune.

The important thing in pruning is to cut out enough of the wood, in order to get rid, not only of the bare branches, but also of all the branches that show even a slight sign of the disease. In severe cases of withertip, there are seen, in addition to bare branches, many limbs on which the yellowish leaves are about to fall. Close examination will show that the disease is slowly making its way back and poisoning these limbs. This poisoning may start from an infection at the tip, or from an infection on a side branch lower down, from which the poisonous effect has spread to the main limb. Sometimes only one side of a tree, or only one branch, is severely affected; while the remaining part of the tree is uninjured. Whatever may be the conditions, it is important to get rid of these poisoned limbs. All limbs that show the beginning of the disease must be taken out. Drastic measures must be employed, and many bearing limbs may have to be sacrificed. To prune only half-heartedly many make matters worse, rather than better. When pruning, care should be taken to make smooth cuts, usually at the base of a branch or limb, so as not to leave any projecting stubs, in which infection is almost sure to start again. After pruning, paint the larger cut surfaces with carbolineum or pine tar.

The grove should be given unusual care after a severe pruning of this kind. It should be fertilized, so as to bring a vigorous healthy growth, and to render the trees resistant to further attacks of the fungus.

Winter pruning for withertip should be done between the middle of December and the middle of January. It is important not to delay the work beyond this date. Do not prune while the new growth is putting out, for this is almost sure to result in injury rather than benefit. Begin the work at once, and do not consider the looks of the trees, but take out everything that shows the presence of the disease.

The beneficial results already obtained on hundreds of acres of groves treated in this way, under the direction of Experiment Station workers, have proved the effectiveness of this treatment.

Other Effects of Withertip.

Different results of the attack of the withertip fungus are seen at other seasons of the year. These vary according to weather conditions and the part of the tree affected, and need different treatment. Some of these effects of the disease are: (1) dropping of bloom; (2) browning of tender leaves; (3) spotting of fruit; and (5) tear-staining of fruit.

For That Dull Feeling After Eating.

I have used Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets for some time, and can testify that they have done me more good than any tablets I have ever used. My trouble was a heavy dull feeling after eating.—David Freeman, Kempt, Nova Scotia. These tablets strengthen the stomach and improve the digestion. They also regulate the liver and bowels. They are far superior to pills but cost no more. Get a free sample at any drug store and see what a splendid medicine it is.

It is not necessary for a good man to affect the airs of a saint, and it is absolutely useless for any other kind of a man to attempt it.

The man who thinks only of himself is to be pitied, even when he is thinking of nothing but his own soul, for the soul of such a man must surely shrivel up.

The appetite grows by what it feeds on. Perhaps this is one reason why the Sugar Trust, not content with the advantage the duty on sugar gave it, increased its profits by swindling the Government.

Lloyd George and Winston Churchill in their fight against the dukes, earls and barons may never hope to gain the favor of those American women who are willing to purchase a gilded coronet with a fortune.

The heavy rain of Sunday night and Monday was hailed with delight by the people of this section. The rainfall appears to have been general all over the State, and will prove of great benefit to the farmers.

The County Commissioners should supply Sheriff Ramsey with a pair of blood hounds. If the sheriff had been in possession of such dogs there is little doubt that the recent purse snatchers in this city would have been run down and captured.

How is it possible for a business man to make his business a success unless he lets people know that he is in business? That means publicity. And how is a man to gain that publicity and thereby attain the success he wants unless he advertises?

A long life does not necessarily mean length of days. Many a person whose age is quite patriarchal may never have lived at all in the true sense of the term—he has only existed. Certainly that is the case if his years have been unmarked by industry, helpfulness and progress. The man who lives well and whose time is well spent lives long whether his years are few or many.

TARIFF AGITATION AGAIN.

The high tariff contingent in Congress, led by Aldrich and Cannon, chuckled gleefully when the tariff "reduction" bill went through last session but their mirth will not be so observant at this session with many bills in sight to revise the tariff on print paper and postpone indefinitely the application of the maximum rates against certain countries which are alleged to be discriminating against us. Business men, eager to have the tariff settled one way or the other, were happy when the President signed the Aldrich-Payne bill, not because they thought it a good bill, but because it promised peace to the disturbed conditions inevitable in any period of tariff revision, up or down. Now that the question is to be reopened it is to be hoped that the blame for the renewal of the agitation will be placed where it belongs—on the shoulders of the men who forced such a makeshift bill through Congress. The position of President Taft, too, is not altogether a happy one since had he but displayed more backbone and less of the Taft smile in efforts for harmony, and fought the tariff ring, he would have had the country back of him and inevitably forced the schemers for their own enrichment to let go some of their plunder.

The figures given out by the Department of Agriculture showing an increase in the area of land sown to wheat amounting to 2,449,000 acres, means that the warning of those far-seeing observers so ably led by James J. Hill, that we must increase our production of farm products or slip backward as a nation, have been heeded by the farming community. Mr. Hill has preached his doctrine in and out of season and his talks at agricultural fairs and on the platform and in public interviews have been circulated all over the country with the result that the farmers, as never before, have turned their attention to opening up lands hitherto considered valueless and sowing it to cereals. The increase in the wheat area planted means an addition of close to 50,000,000 bushels of wheat to the total crop, a considerable factor in the wheat market.

There is considerable truth in the old proverb that "if you keep your business your business will keep you." Many a man falls in business because he neglects it, and there are scores of ways in which that neglect is shown. Attention to other things instead of business, dilatory and slovenly methods, faulty bookkeeping, neglect of advertising, and bad habits, are some of the most common ways by which a man shows that he is not keeping his business. When that is the case the business soon refuses to keep the man. The moral of all this is clear to everyone in business or who is about to enter business life.

To many people Christmas is a burden because it means a well-nigh ruinous expense. It need not be, and it is a mistake to make it so. When it is done it is really a departure from the spirit of the occasion, for Christmas was never designed to put a burden on anyone. Rather is it designed to relieve people of burdens and fill their hearts and homes with joy and love.

There is not a city in the country better policed than Jacksonville. The law breaker who escapes the clutches of Chief Vinzant's men is certainly a shrewd one.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Judge Malone recently charged the jury at Tallahassee that the person who buys liquor from "blind tigers" is as guilty as the seller, in consequence of which charge Solicitor Walker not pressed all indictments returned against illicit liquor dealers. Judge Malone said it was reprehensible in an officer to be a party to the purchase of liquor for the purpose of convicting persons engaged in such illicit sale.

What a mistake it is to reserve all our eulogy of people until they are dead. Many a man while living has hungered in vain for a few words of recognition that would have meant everything to him when struggling against discouraging odds. But when he died eulogistic resolutions were unanimously passed crediting him with all the virtues possible for anyone to possess on earth or in heaven.

We should be extremely careful how we speak to or act towards a boy or girl. Harsh or unkind words and acts or a suspicious attitude may send them on a downward path. A cheering, helpful word, a little kindly act, and a spirit of confidence may on the other hand prove a powerful incentive to right doing and ultimate success.

CAUSE FOR ALARM

Loss of Appetite or Distress After Eating Symptoms That Should Not Be Disregarded.

Appetite is just a natural desire of the system for food necessary to replace natural body waste. Loss of appetite or stomach distress after eating indicates indigestion or dyspepsia. Over-eating is a habit very dangerous to a person's good general health, and insatiable appetite is a common symptom of diabetes.

It is not what you eat but what you digest and assimilate that does you good. Some of the strongest, heaviest and healthiest persons are moderate eaters.

There is nothing that will create sickness or cause more trouble than a disordered stomach, and many people daily contract serious maladies simply through disregard or abuse of the stomach.

We urge everyone suffering from any stomach derangement, indigestion or dyspepsia, whether acute or chronic, to try Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets, with the distinct understanding that we will refund their money without question or formality, if after reasonable use of this medicine they are not satisfied with the results. We recommend them to our customers every day, and have yet to hear of any one who has not been benefited by them.

We honestly believe Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets to be without equal. They are made from the prescription of a physician who devoted his time to the study and treatment of stomach troubles. They give very prompt relief, stimulating the secretion of gastric juices, strengthen the digestive organs, aid to good digestion and assimilation, regulate the bowels, and promote nutrition.

We urge you to try a 25-cent box of Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets, which give 15 days' treatment. At the end of that time your money will be returned to you if you are not satisfied. Of course, in chronic cases length of treatment varies. For such cases we have two larger sizes, which sell for 50 cents and $1.00. Remember you can obtain Rexall Remedies in Gainesville only at our store—The Rexall Store. J. W. McCollum & Co.,

tion regarding the lands, schools, etc.,

Fort Meade has found an effective way to check the vagrant hog nuisance. Under the new ordinance when the porkers are allowed to run at large about the streets and yards of that city they are driven into the city pound and sold to the butcher at a dollar a head.

The body of Wiley Freeman, an old colored man of Fernandina, was found in an old house in that city on Wednesday, where it was supposed the man had been dead several days. He had been in bad health for some time, though his death is supposed to have been sudden, and not from the ailment from which he had been suffering.

It is said that Congress will be asked to provide for the restoration of Fort Matanzas, the old Spanish fort near Matanzas Inlet. Twenty-five years ago the old fort was in such a ruinous condition that it looked as though it might fall any day. The fact that it has stood to this day shows how strongly it was constructed, and is an argument in favor of restoring it.

George Gathers, a colored railroad switchman of Fernandina, was severely injured in the yards there Friday
by being caught between an engine and a box car. Gathers was riding on the back of the engine, when the box car next to the engine split the switch and caught him between the engine and the car, from which he was squeezed considerably, and at the time was thought to be dangerously hurt. He is reported to be rapidly improving now.

CHRISTMAS SUGGESTIONS.

"What on earth are you doing?" I turned and saw my friend standing in the doorway grazing with evident curiosity at me as I sat surrounded by boxes, bags, and small piles of assorted scraps, odds and ends gathered at every chance, small stacks of pictures, pasteboard, embroidery, silks, a paste pot, plaster Paris and almost every kind of trifle that an active mind had considered as being of service in such an event as is fast approaching. Repressing a desire to laugh, I said calmly, "Making Christmas gifts."

"Do you know," she said "this gift business makes Christmas a bug-bear to me?"

"Why," I answered, "it is the happiest time of all the year to me and from one year's end to the other I save everything that comes my way,
even the wrapping paper and strings, tissue paper from shoe boxes, which I leave in the box and use the box for a catch-all until it is full, then tie it up and put it away until I have an opportunity to use it. I save every pretty magazine picture from the front cover to the back, and I will tell you how I convert them into Christmas gifts.

"See that plaster Paris? Well, I cut a picture from an old calendar, or from somewhere, as accurately as I can follow the outline. Then get a clean dish or new pie plate and grease
it with tallow, lay the picture bottom side up in the dish, take water and make the plaster Paris into a batter and pour on all until enough to make a solid cake one-half inch or more thick. At the top punch two holes about two inches apart, while the plaster is wet, so ribbon can be run through to hang them up by. Set these aside for a few days and you have some beautiful plaques.

"I cut some round and square pieces of pasteboard and after trimming a magazine picture about an inch larger all around than the pasteboard, smear paste on the picture, neatly cover the board and carefully smooth the edges over the back. Put these under something heavy until they are dry. Then punch holes in them and run cord or ribbon through to hang up. Two fastened together, one above the other, are prettier than just one.

"Here is the way I make a key rack:
Take a half moon cut from shoe box top, two pieces of red calico cut a seam larger, bottom edges stitched together, turn, slip half moon in, turn in the upper edges and whip together.
Take a pencil and mark off inches on each end of the bottom edge, and divide the intervening space in places two inches. Whip small wire—have a piece a yard or more long—on until you reach the four-inch mark, bend the wire about the shape and length of a small hairpin, press together and bend in the shape of a hook. Bend the wire at the same place and sew straight to the next mark, then manipulate as before until the far end is reached. Paste or paint a small picture in center. Sew ribbon or cord on each corner and tie in the middle.
Of course I do not find time to do one-half what I wish to do, nor use one-tenth of my scrapings, but all through the year I am busy fashioning articles with an eye to Christmas and birthday gifts. It keeps my mind off my pain, because it is too full of happy, tender thoughts to allow room for self.

"It is not difficult to send presents
to friends and relatives in town.
Bottles of sealed syrup, a few dozen eggs, a fat hen, a sack of hickory nuts, a bag of mellow crab apples, a string of home-made sausage, a joint of country pork, all make acceptable presents to people who have such things to buy and rarely ever get their money's worth. My husband sends my parents and his parents a load of kindling wood every Christmas Eve. The coppers on our farm are fixings each Christmas morning, even

THE PRIDE OF GAINESVILLE

UNIVERSITY PLACE

From today the growth and development of this Sub-Division will be coincident with that of Gainesville itself, and it is conceded by the shrewdest men of affairs that Gainesville is to witness an expansion during the next five years rarely equalled in the history of the United States. When those who have lived to see a city grown beyond its bounds as Gainesville has done within the past five years are told that the same opportunities exist today as in the past, they are loth to believe but the process of push is still going on here. And there is no limit to it. This means that history repeats itself to the rising generation and also to the man or woman who has capital and fails to invest it.

It is written that the greatest growth of all cities shall be westward; and Gainesville will be no exception to the rule in fulfilling her destiny. Hindered for a long period by peculiar local conditions she grew north and east, but at last favored by the location of the University of Florida in that direction, she is now in line to obey that mysterious law which none can explain, and will grow to the westward.

Between the city and the University, lying along the beautiful boulevard known as West Liberty Street, is UNIVERSITY PLACE, the new Sub-Division owned by The W. R. Thomas Real Estate Company, and now offered for sale in building lots on the easy payment plan of $10 cash and $10 per month. Large numbers of local as well as outside people have already bought lots in UNIVERSITY PLACE and soon the music of the hammer and saw will be heard on every side erecting homes for these people who can look ahead and see the values growing. Already one-third of the lots have been sold and very soon they will all be gone. Don't delay. Do it today

HAPPY WOMEN

Plenty of Them in Gainesville, and Good Reason for It.

Wouldn't any woman be happy, after years of backache suffering, Days of misery, nights of unrest, The distress of urinary troubles, She finds relief and cure?

No reason why any Gainesville reader

Should suffer in the face of evidence like this:

Mrs. John Smith, 307 E. Magnolia street, Gainesville, Fla., says: "I suffered from a weak back and severe pains in my sides for a long time. I could not stoop without experiencing sharp twinges through my body and if I did so it was difficult to regain an erect position. I was also subject to headaches and at times was very nervous. When I saw Doan's Kidney Pills so highly recommended for these troubles, I procured a box and began their use. In a short time I felt much better. The pains lost their severity and I gained in strength. I consider Doan's Kidney Pills an excellent remedy and am pleased to recommend them."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

HIS STURDY WATCH.

He Keeps It in Repair Himself With the Aid of a Knife.

"Some men, don't you know," said Mr. Grilkilston, "will step off a curb, step down about a foot and break a leg, and then another man will fall off the top of a seventeen story house and not even muss his clothes. And it's about the same way with watches.

"I dropped my watch the other day about six inches on to a thick plush carpet, and it cost me $16 for repairs. When I was out walking with my friend Bwilkwilby this morning he dropped his watch on the sidewalk, and it didn't so much as stop it.

"It sounded when it came down like a safe falling out of a high window, and it was only a two dollar watch, and I expected, of course, to see Bwilkwilby just kick the fragments off the sidewalk and pass on, but it seems Bwilkwilby knew the watch better. He picked up the crystal, not even cracked, from where it had flown, seven feet away, and put that in his pocket, and then he looked at the watch.

"It was going all right, but somehow in the fall the long hand had got bent. He straightened out that bent hand with his pocketknife so that the two pointers wouldn't catch, and then he pried off the crystal rim of the watch and put the crystal back in place, and then he snapped the rim back on the front of the watch again and dropped the watch in his pocket and started on, and 'As I was saying,' he said, just as if nothing had happened." - Washington Post.
